GABRIEL MARK HASSELBACH AND THE JAZZ PERPETRATORS

Swingin' Affair

Wind Tunnel Multimedia ★★★½

The disc's title and artwork — Jack Price's painting of a jazz band in full workout mode — make this CD look like it could be another Susie Arioli-style lounge act. As if we need more of that.

But no, Swingin' Affair is far from that. Opening with Horace Silver's Senor Blues, the band gets into a hard-driving groove, with Hasselbach's trumpet soaring to hit stratospheric notes, and pianist Andy Weyl playing a forceful solo. The spirited Latin number El Tapatico has Hasselbach overdubbing flute and trumpet (which he does on other tracks), proving that he can match his brass standard on reeds, and drummer Paul Romain punctuates things with rim shots on his tom-toms. Hasselbach does some of his best trumpet playing on Lover Come Back to Me, taken at a fast tempo with a rollicking piano solo by Weyl.

The CD contains three vocal numbers, Nancy Ruth getting into a Latin groove on To Say Goodbye, Dee Daniels powerfully pushing the shuffle tune Kiss Me Baby, and Hasselbach doing a decent Satchmo imitation on A Kiss to Build a Dream On.

Hasselbach and his band perform Saturday, 8 p.m., at the four-group Sweet Basil Vancouver concert at St. Andrew's-Wesley Church.
